

COVER STORY

Scott Benson
Oakville, Ont.

Named by his brokerage, Sutton Group Quantum, as the number one producer in the Greater Toronto Area in 2012, 2013 and 2014, Scott Benson lists and sells real estate in Burlington, Mississauga, Oakville, Toronto and more. Besides his passion for real estate, Benson is focused on his family, as well as a range of charities, including as an active volunteer at The Meeting House's youth and children's ministries.

Justin Havre
Calgary

An award-winning real estate agent known throughout the industry, Justin Havre leads an exceptional team that posted more than $136 million in sales volume in 2013. A sought-after speaker, Havre has given lectures at international real estate conferences.

Darcy McLeod
Maple Ridge, BC

As the Real Estate Board of Greater Vancouver's latest president-elect, Darcy McLeod is ready to usher the board into a new era – one that's rife with the latest technology. "One of the biggest issues is that the business world moves very fast, and organized real estate doesn't," he says. "Technology, obviously, has been a big driver for a lot of the innovation. There's been a lot of opportunity for real estate professionals to provide a higher level of service by embracing technology."

Terry Paranych
Edmonton

Born and raised in Edmonton, Terry Paranych is one of the city's leading sales reps and holds a special affection for the city where he has spent his entire life. He is also the founder and CEO of the Paranych Group Companies, which includes a multi-family property company, a residential home building company and SuperStarAgent.com, a real estate training and coaching company. Through his successful real estate business, Paranych supports his community by sponsoring youth teams and getting involved in numerous charities.

Peter Hogeterp
Stoney Creek, Ont.

Hogeterp specializes in small-town residential, rural properties, farms and large parcels of land, as well as recreational property in Hamilton-Wentworth, Haldimand County and the southernmost tip of Southwestern Ontario. As a realtor for more than 10 years, his grassroots approach earned him a Top Transactions Award in 2012, his seventh consecutive win in that category.

Terry Isaryk
Winnipeg

Terry Isaryk, one of the leading sales associates in Winnipeg, was licensed in 1994 and joined Re/Max Performance in 1999. He offers a range of tools and information on his comprehensive website for those who are either looking to buy their dream home or looking to sell their home quickly. His awards and distinctions include Re/Max's Hall of Fame and Lifetime Achievement, as well as its Chairman's Club and Diamond Club.

Sam Corea
Calgary

While Sam Corea focuses on selling homes of all sizes and price points, his reputation for closing deals on luxury homes in Calgary has earned him the moniker 'The Million Dollar Man.' Over the past decade, Corea has been involved in more than 2,000 transactions, and he attributes much of his success to his large marketing budget.

Elli Davis
Toronto

Few people, let alone agents, can boast a thriving business after 32 years – but Elli Davis can. The real estate veteran had a great 2014, holding on to her spot in the top 1% of Canadian agents – a position she's captured since the start of her career. And if her track record is to be believed, she'll be there again in 2015. "I'm just going to continue the way I've been going," she says. "It's worked."
